

Elevate Jacksonville Announces Jacoby Moore as New Executive Director

Elevate Jacksonville, a proud affiliate of Elevate USA, is proud to announce Jacoby Moore as its new Executive Director. Moore will lead the organization's day-to-day operations and strategic growth as Elevate Jacksonville continues expanding its impact among the youth and students across Jacksonville.

Moore succeeds Carla Austin, who served as Executive Director for four years. Under Austin's leadership, Elevate Jacksonville strengthened its operations and programming. She will continue serving the organization by leading its school-based program area.

"I am honored to serve as the Executive Director of Elevate Jacksonville and build upon the strong foundation that has been established," said Moore. "I look forward to working alongside our team, school partners, mentors and community supporters to create meaningful opportunities for students and help them develop the character, confidence and skills they need to thrive."

Prior to joining Elevate Jacksonville, Moore served as Director of Operations for The Boselli Foundation, where he helped oversee mentoring initiatives for youth involved in the juvenile justice system. Through trauma-informed programming and consistent mentorship, he encouraged personal growth and supported positive life outcomes for young men.

A United States Navy veteran, former senior pastor, entrepreneur and nonprofit leader, Moore brings a diverse professional background spanning multiple industries. Throughout his career, he has focused on empowering youth through mentorship, character development and education.

"Jacoby brings a unique combination of leadership experience, a heart for mentorship and a deep commitment to serving young people and families," said Austin. "I am excited to see him lead Elevate Jacksonville into its next chapter while continuing to work alongside him to support the students and schools we serve."
